

Ramiyah

Date:

10/1/12

Review of Amber Brown, by Paula Danziger

If you like personal books about the character and her family and friends, you should read Amber Brown because it shows Amber's feelings and it also tells about her family and how she likes to play with her friends.

Amber Brown is about a girl who has lots of friends an Amber sitter and her mom and dad are divorced and she is going to have a stepdad, there is more you want to know you will have to read to find out.

Amber Brown is a great book. It is sad and exciting when you read just the two pages it will feel great and you would want to read it until you get to the end of the book.

You will really like the book because it has feelings actions and they also have sad parts and happy parts that is really the best.

That is why you really need to read all of the Amber series, you will feel how great that book is.